

Seeking What's Lost

I remember, when I was a child, hunting Easter eggs. My family would hide them and we kids would have to find them; it was a bit of a competition. I remember how hard it was to find these eggs. At times they would be hidden under cars, in trees, and behind objects that you would never imagine finding an egg. Though it was hard to find the eggs, the reward for finding the most was well worth it as a kid: a whopping $5! The reward was great to me as a kid, but the job of seeking all of those eggs was exhausting and nearly impossible to me.

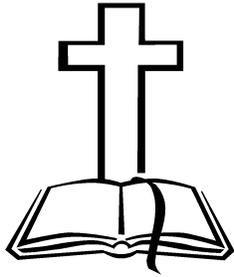

If we had to seek after God like I had to with the Easter eggs we would be in trouble, because if I'm being honest, I never won. God knows that on our own we can't find Him. Worse yet, even if we did find Him, we aren't good enough for Him. The good news is that we don't have to search for God, and we don't have to be good enough. Jesus is the one who seeks after us, and it's because of the righteousness of Jesus that we can be good enough for God. God's made it easy for us; it's time we take advantage of it.

Luke 19:10, For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost."
