

Fear of Flying

Airplanes and flight tend to make most people nervous. In commercials, we see people on planes smiling, relaxing, and having a good time. When I fly, I only see people who are not having fun. We hear all the reports about flying being the safest way to travel, but we still are a little apprehensive.

On my recent flight to Panama, we flew through Houston. After we had boarded the plane, there was a delay. The pilot came on the intercom and announced that the delay was because some equipment had arrived late and needed to be logged onto the plane. He attempted to reassure us, but at best, he was only telling a partial truth.

I was looking out the window and the TSA was removing bags from the plane and opening them on the ground. They searched through many bags. I want the TSA to do a god job of protecting all planes, especially the ones I am on.

It was a little unnerving to know there was evidently an increased security risk on my flight. They had a reason to search the bags again after the initial screening inside the terminal. They were not removing and searching bags just for fun.

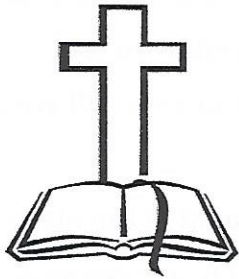

On our trip through this life to eternity, there are many dangers. These dangers can cause us to be apprehensive. We can place our confidence in the thought and sayings of a mere man, or we can put our confidence in Jesus. The unknown causes nervousness while the promises of the One who conquered death brings relief. Jesus can remove the fear and dread of traveling out of this life to eternity.

I depend on the TSA to keep me safe when I fly. I depend on Jesus as I travel through this life and keep my soul when this physical life ends.
