

Up for Interpretation?

I almost hate to say this, but people care more about opinions than facts. We have been seeing this in our society here lately, and I feel it needs to be addressed by the Lord's church. The Bible explicitly tells us that it is the inspired word of God, and anyone who believes in the Lord should respect it as such. However, people today are wanting to find answers, but they aren't looking in the Bible. Well, they are, but they want to dispel what they find. So what they do is, they ask the famous what they think.

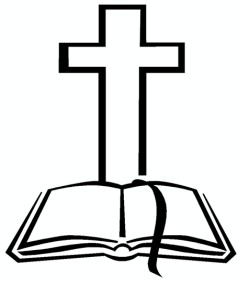

What I am hinting at is a great frustration of mine. A certain celebrity was asked what they thought about what the Bible said about a certain sin. The Bible explicitly condemned the sin, but the celebrity said, "Well, that's not my interpretation of that verse." I think this is appalling. It's because of this that sin is celebrated in our country. We need to take a stand and tell the world that the Bible isn't up for our interpretation, but God's alone.

2 Peter 1:20, But know this first of all, that no prophecy of Scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation.
