

Bringing Glory to God in Any Situation

We all know someone who walks around and believes that “stuff always happens to them.” Many people look at the disappointments and problems in life and say that is just their “fate.” They claim that their antisocial attitudes and behaviors are a result of their situation. “I am the way I am because these bad things happened to me.” They may even blame their sins on circumstances.

The apostle Peter has a completely different view of life. In I Peter 2, Peter addresses slaves. We would all agree that being a slave, being the property of another human, is not a desirable position. Being a slave is about as low as a person can get. There are few positions in this life worse than being a slave.

Peter says if you are a slave, consider it your calling and live in a way that will bring glory to God. Peter says it does not matter how you got to your situation in life, since you are there, bring glory to God.

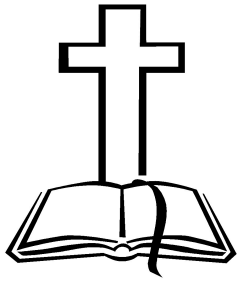

Peter says it may not be your choice to wash feet but imitate Jesus. It may not be your choice to be in a very unappreciated position, but even in this position it is possible to serve Jesus in a way to cause others to glorify God.

We have a choice on how we react to any situation. If a slave could bring glory to God, we can bring glory to God in any situation.
