

What Can I Do?

I know that each one of us has likely been affected by the images and videos of the destruction of Hurricane Harvey that has filled our computer, phone and television screens for the past week. For Kimberly and I, it has been especially gut wrenching. Not only have we watched the highly publicized pieces shared by the various news networks, but we've also witnessed and heard stories from some of our closest friends from our time in the Houston metropolitan area. I believe that the same question that you pose when you see such disastrous circumstances is the one that fills my mind during times like this, that is, "What can I do?"

The Apostle Paul says in Galatians 6:9, "So let's not get tired of doing what is good. At just the right time we will reap a harvest of blessing if we don't give up," (New Living Translation).

What can I do? I can do that which is good. I can pray (Matthew 7:11). I can gather together with fellow Christians to worship, to pray, and to encourage (Galatians 6:2). And it is good for us to give to those that have need (Acts 20:35). These and many more acts are the good that we can do. Never allow distance from trouble allow you to become apathetic. In all situations, be the good, be the light for others to see.

Remember, you are loved.
